Course Description

Within the discipline of anthropology, archaeology is something of a bridge between cultural anthropology and biological anthropology. Archaeology provides deep historical context for the modern societies studied by scholars in the cultural subfield and for the human beings and bodies that are central to biological anthropology. Methodologically, archaeology also draws on techniques developed and employed by practitioners of the other subfields of anthropology, including ethnographic methods and many laboratory methods.

This course is designed to familiarize students across anthropology's subdisciplines with what archaeologists do: theoretically, methodologically, and ethically. Because this is a classroom-based seminar, we will emphasize theory over methods. In order to understand how archaeologists formulate their research problems, develop and analyze their data sets, and draw meaning from their findings, students will review the history of theory in the discipline and consider the methods employed in archaeology to understand the past.

Student Learning Outcomes

This course has seven goals. By the end of the semester, students should be able to:

1) articulate how theory informs archaeological research;

2) explain the principles behind some of the major archaeological methods;

3) articulate the basic tenets of the major theoretical schools of archaeology in the 20th and 21st centuries and understand how these connect to broader trends in anthropology as a whole;

4) recognize theoretical approaches in published research;

5) demonstrate how different theoretical perspectives affect research questions, research design, and the application of different methods;

6) articulate the principles governing ethical archaeological practice; and

7) apply theoretical approaches and ethical principles to their own research.

Course Materials and Resources:

There will also be a number of book chapter and journal article readings assigned throughout the semester. These will be available either through the UCF Library's databases or as PDFs on Webcourses. The Johnson text is available for 21-day checkout in the library and individual chapters can be downloaded. Note that there are often limits to the number of students who can check out a book at once, so you may find that you need a hard copy of the book.

Assessment and Grading

Your grade in this course will be derived from class participation, weekly writing assignments, a final term paper, and a presentation

Your grade will be calculated as follows:

Grade Categories	Description of Requirements	Due Date	Weight Toward Final Grade	Point Value
Participation and Attendance	Routinely contributing to the class discussion on the subject matter and readings. Your participation will include providing key points and questions on weekly readings at the beginning of each class. Submitted in person	Weekly	12	120
Discussion leadership	Leading part of the class discussion for one week of class	Once per semester	10	100

Weekly written assignments	The nature of the assignment will vary weekly, but will include annotated bibliographies, critical reviews, and basic summaries. Submitted through Webcourses.	11:59am the day after class	13	130
Bibliography	A 15-source bibliography for your term paper, with the five most important sources annotated. Submitted through Webcourses.	October 23 at 11:59pm	10	100
Term paper	A final paper discussing the history of a particular theoretical or methodological approach (5,000-6,000 words). Submitted through Webcourses.	Due December 10 at 9:00am	40	400
Presentation	A 15-minute, SAA-style presentation of the subject matter of the term paper, followed by 5 minutes of Q&A	December 3 & 10 in class	15	150
Final Exam	There is no final exam in this course		0	0
TOTAL			100	1000

- Note that your attendance at class is required and graded (it is part of the participation grade). Arriving on time for class is also part of attendance.
- You may need to work as a team to complete the discussion leadership requirement. If you don't pull your weight, your grade will be impacted.
- There is a lot of reading and writing in this course, plan accordingly.

Grading Scale

Letter Grade	Percent of Total Raw Score
A	95-100%
A-	90-94%
B+	87-89%
B	84-86%
B-	80-83%
C+	77-79%
C	74-76%
C-	70-73%
D	60-69%
F	59% and below

Covid Policies for 2020 School Year

University-Wide Face Covering Policy for Common Spaces and Face-to-Face Classes

To protect members of our community, everyone is required to wear a facial covering inside all common spaces including classrooms (https://policies.ucf.edu/documents/PolicyEmergencyCOVIDReturnPolicy.pdf (https://policies.ucf.edu/documents/PolicyEmergencyCOVIDReturnPolicy.pdf). Students who choose not to wear facial coverings will be asked to leave the classroom by the instructor. If they refuse to leave the classroom or put on a facial covering, they may be considered disruptive (please see the Golden Rule (https://goldenrule.sdes.ucf.edu/) for student behavior expectations). Faculty have the right to cancel class if the safety and well-being of class members are in jeopardy. Students will be responsible for the material that would have been covered in class as provided by the instructor.

Notifications in Case of Changes to Course Modality

Depending on the course of the pandemic during the semester, the university may make changes to the way classes are offered. If that happens, please look for announcements or messages in Webcourses@UCF or Knights email about changes specific to this course.

COVID-19 and Illness Notification

Students who believe they may have a COVID-19 diagnosis should contact UCF Student Health Services (407-823-2509) so proper contact tracing procedures can take place.

Students should not come to campus if they are ill, are experiencing any symptoms of COVID-19, have tested positive for COVID, or if anyone living in their residence has tested positive or is sick with COVID-19 symptoms. CDC guidance for COVID-19 symptoms is located here: (https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/symptoms-testing/symptoms.html (https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/symptoms-testing/symptoms.html))

Students should contact their instructor(s) as soon as possible if they miss class for any illness reason to discuss reasonable adjustments that might need to be made. When possible, students should contact their instructor(s) before missing class.

In Case of Faculty Illness

If the instructor falls ill during the semester, there may be changes to this course, including having a backup instructor take over the course. Please look for announcements or mail in Webcourses@UCF or Knights email for any alterations to this course.

Accessing the Synchronous Component of Class

Because of the continued remote instruction requirement due to the COVID-19 pandemic, this course will use Zoom for synchronous (“real time”) class meetings. Meeting dates and times will be scheduled through Webcourses@UCF and should appear on your calendar.

Please take the time to familiarize yourself with Zoom by visiting the UCF Zoom Guides (https://cdl.ucf.edu/support/webcourses/zoom/) at <https://cdl.ucf.edu/support/webcourses/zoom/>. You may choose to use Zoom on your mobile device (phone or tablet).

Things to Know About Zoom:

- You must sign in to my Zoom session using your UCF NID and password.
- The Zoom sessions are recorded.
- Improper classroom behavior is not tolerated within Zoom sessions and may result in a referral to the Office of Student Conduct.
- You can contact Webcourses@UCF Support (https://cdl.ucf.edu/support/) at <https://cdl.ucf.edu/support/webcourses/> if you have any technical issues accessing Zoom.

Professionalism and Parenting during Zoom Sessions

While Zoom sessions obviously cannot have the same formality as a classroom setting, it is expected that you will treat classes in as professional manner as possible. This includes wearing attire appropriate for a university course, removing distractions from your environment, finding a place where you can sit upright and focus on your classmates.

That said, parents deserve access to education. At all times, I strive to be inclusive to parents, and now, in our virtual learning space, with many children learning from home or schools facing sudden closures, we can expect children to be present in class from time to time. Parents or caregivers who anticipate having a child(ren) with them during class sessions are encouraged to wear a headset to help minimize background noise. You may mute your microphone and communicate through the “chat” feature at any point necessary.

(Usual) Policies

Topic	Policy
Contacting the professor	In this class our official mode of communication is through the email located inside Webcourses. All communication between student and instructor and between student and student should be respectful and professional. It is the student's responsibility to check the "coursemail" tool frequently.
Webcourses@UCF	This is a face-to-face course. Some course materials and assignments, however, have an on-line component that is accessed through the UCF on-line software, Webcourses@UCF. You are expected to complete assignments on-time regardless of technological difficulties.

Accessing On-line Course Content	You have an on-line assignment due the first week of class that is designed to show your participation in this course for federal financial aid purposes. Be sure to complete this assignment. Readings unavailable through the UCF Libraries website will also be available through Webcourses.
Grading and evaluation	Graded materials will be returned to you within two weeks of their due date, unless you are informed otherwise through a class-wide announcement. The grading scale used in this course is on the “Evaluation” page of this syllabus. If you receive two √- grades on weekly written assignments, you must make an appointment with Dr. Barber to discuss your writing in person. Receipt of three √- grades on weekly written assignments will result in your final grade being dropped by 1 letter.
Attendance and Participation	Attendance is required for this course. If you must miss class, please discuss planned absences with the instructors. For unplanned absences, please contact the instructor as soon as you are able. For every two classes you miss without a valid excuse, your grade will be dropped by one letter. If you receive a √- grade for participation on a day you are present, you will be notified by the professor via email. Receipt of three √- grades in participation will result in your grade being dropped by 1 letter. Participation is an important component of this class. While debate and differing opinions are encouraged in this class, remember that this is a professional setting: please be respectful and polite to your classmates.

Deadlines and Make-ups	Only students who have serious extenuating circumstances will be given the opportunity to make up missed work or to take an Incomplete. You will be required to provide written documentation of said circumstance. You will have one week to make up an assignment once you contact the professor after missing a deadline. I will give students one opportunity to submit or fix late weekly writeups. These are either: 1) if you turn in an assignment on-time, but it is incomplete, you may submit the final and fixed version late. In this situation, I usually catch the error and will request the corrected version from you by a deadline I set; or 2) if you miss an assignment completely but do not have a written excuse, I will accept late work submitted by a deadline I set, but I will take off 1 letter grade (so a check plus becomes a check, a check becomes a check minus).
Academic integrity	UCF faculty members have a responsibility for your education and the value of a UCF degree, and so seek to prevent unethical behavior, notably plagiarism and cheating. When necessary, I will respond to infringements of academic integrity. Penalties can include a failing grade on an assignment or in the course, suspension or expulsion from the university, and/or a "Z Designation" on a student's official transcript indicating academic dishonesty, where the final grade for this course will be preceded by the letter Z. For more information about the Z Designation, see http://z.ucf.edu/.

Course Accessibility	We are committed to providing access and inclusion for all persons with disabilities. Students with disabilities who need disability-related access in this course should contact the professor as soon as possible. Students should also connect with Student Accessibility Services (SAS) <http://sas.sdes.ucf.edu/ (http://sas.sdes.ucf.edu/) > (Ferrell Commons 185, sas@ucf.edu (mailto:sas@ucf.edu) , phone 407-823-2371). Through Student Accessibility Services, a Course Accessibility Letter may be created and sent to professors, which informs faculty of potential access and accommodations that might be reasonable. Determining reasonable access and accommodations requires consideration of the course design, course learning objectives and the individual academic and course barriers experienced by the student.
Emergency Procedures	Emergencies on campus are rare, but if one should arise during class, everyone needs to work together. Students should be aware of their surroundings and familiar with some basic safety and security concepts. · In case of an emergency, dial 911 for assistance. · Every UCF classroom contains an emergency procedure guide posted on a wall near the door. Students should make a note of the guide's physical location and review the online version at <http://emergency.ucf.edu/emergency_guide.html (http://emergency.ucf.edu/emergency_guide.html) >. · Students should know the evacuation routes from each of their classrooms and have a plan for finding safety in case of an emergency.

· If there is a medical emergency during class, students may need to access a first-aid kit or AED (Automated External Defibrillator). To learn where those are located, see <http://www.ehs.ucf.edu/AEDlocations-UCF (http://www.ehs.ucf.edu/AEDlocations-UCF) > (click on link from menu on left).

· To stay informed about emergency situations, students can sign up to receive UCF text alerts by going to <https://my.ucf.edu (https://my.ucf.edu/) > and logging in. Click on “Student Self Service” located on the left side of the screen in the toolbar, scroll down to the blue “Personal Information” heading on the Student Center screen, click on “UCF Alert”, fill out the information, including e-mail address, cell phone number, and cell phone provider, click “Apply” to save the changes, and then click “OK.”

· Students with special needs related to emergency situations should speak with their instructors outside of class.

· To learn about how to manage an active-shooter situation on campus or elsewhere, consider viewing this videoYou CAN Survive an Active Shooter (https://youtu.be/NlKYajEx4pk)

Deployed Active Military Students	Students who are deployed active duty military and/or National Guard personnel and require accommodation should contact their instructors as soon as possible after the semester begins and/or after they receive notification of deployment to make related arrangements
