I. PURPOSE

The purpose of this grant program is to initiate and support faculty developing innovative faculty-led study abroad (or research abroad) programs, which will offer UCF students high impact international experiences. All proposals must clearly address this objective and indicate how it supports the university’s international goals.

Joint proposals or collaborative study abroad (i.e. two faculty members from different disciplines presenting an interdisciplinary program) are highly encouraged.

Preference will be given to innovative, high impact programs, programs in countries in which UCF does not have a significant presence, or an area of discovery that is new to study or research abroad at UCF. Please visit www.international.ucf.edu for more information.

The intent of this program is to assist faculty interested in providing a global educational opportunity to UCF students. These faculty-led programs should provide the student with an experience that enhances curriculum and supports globalization of the campus.

Up to 30 grants may be funded in this cycle.
II. PROPOSAL CATEGORIES

The funds outlined here are for the development/planning phase (not the actual Study Abroad Experience)

1. Development of a Study Abroad Program
   The funding supports the faculty as they are designing the experience. The proposed experience can be two weeks to a semester long, with credits given for a particular course.
   Maximum per proposal – $5,000*

2. Development of a Research Abroad Program
   The funding supports the faculty as they are designing the experience. The experience must be for a group of at least three students, undergraduate students must enroll for Undergraduate Research Experience (URE) credits.
   Maximum per proposal – $5,000*

   * Exceptional proposals requiring a larger amount of funding may be considered but will require substantial contributions from the faculty’s department and/or college, institute or center. These contributions may take the form of additional summer funding or release time during the academic year (i.e. in kind).

Proposals for students or faculty to attend international conferences, trainings, or workshops are not eligible.

Proposals for Research Abroad should consider leveraging this seed grant in conjunction with a supplementary URE program to external existing grants if applicable.
