The college will provide limited matching funds to support faculty travel to present a research paper or comparable creative activity at a professional meeting.

The college program is similar to the ORC faculty travel program (http://www.research.ucf.edu/SponsoredPrograms/FundingOpportunities/facultytravel.html). Faculty are encouraged to seek matching funds from both programs. There are two differences between the programs: the college-provided travel funds are not restricted to only transportation costs, and they may be requested either before or after travel.

The criteria are similar to the ORC faculty travel program:

1. Only tenure-earning and tenured assistant/associate professors are eligible.
2. No more than one trip per person may be funded each fiscal year.
3. The trip must be to present a research paper or comparable creative activity at a professional meeting.
4. Funding is for any cost associated with the trip (unlike the ORC program).
5. The college will match departmental E&G funds expended on the trip up to $250.
6. If two college faculty co-author a paper, funding will be provided only to one author.
7. The following must be submitted with the application:
   a. A 60-75 word abstract of the presentation; and
   b. Documentation of the presentation’s acceptance (e.g., a copy of the program).
8. Applications may be submitted before or up to 45 days after travel has occurred. A copy of planned trip costs (if applying before travel) or a description of actual costs (if after) must accompany the application.

Attach the following:

a. A 60-75 word abstract of the presentation
   In this talk I shall present some recent results on Traveling Waves arising from both Complex Fluids System of Thermal-diffusivity and Auto-catalytic Chemical Reactions. We shall show how to establish a sharp bound of the traveling speed for existence, and stability of waves based on a novel approach we discovered in recent years. We shall also discuss how to compare our results with experiments.

b. Documentation of the presentation’s acceptance (e.g., a copy of the program)

c. Explanation of planned trip costs (if applying before travel) or description of actual costs (if after)

Travel: 1) Airfare, $270, Home<->Airport, $50, Airport<-> Hotel, $70;
2) Hotel: $300= $150 X 2;
3) Meal Allowance: $50.
Application for College of Science Faculty Travel Funds
FY 2017-2018

Return to: COS Research, COS Deans Office, CSB 201, cosresearch@ucf.edu

The college will match departmental travel funds up to $250 per trip. Awarded funds will be transferred to the department overhead account. Applications will be accepted on a rolling basis and funded first come, first served. A total of $5,000 of college overhead funds per fiscal year will be set aside for this purpose. Department will be notified when Journal is submitted. Refer to page 1 for necessary attachments.
