POLICY STATEMENT

The term “cost sharing,” also known as “matching commitment,” refers to the portion of the total project cost that is not paid by the sponsoring agency. Cost sharing agreements may or may not be required by the sponsoring agency of a grant. These agreements receive funds from the College, the Office of Research & Commercialization, and/or the Department.

For ORC’s Policy on Matching, please refer to HERE.

For some Federal agencies, a “MFFA”, or “Matching Funds for Federal Agencies” is required. For more information regarding the policies and requirements, as well as the application form, please refer to HERE.

The college will seek to make appropriate match commitments to grant and contract proposals, if funds are available.
