

Thomas Brueckner

Department of Physics • University of Central Florida • Orlando FL 32816

Phone: 407-823-6286 • E-Mail: Thomas.Brueckner@ucf.edu

Education

Ph.D. Montana State University, Bozeman MT 59715, May 1997. General relativity, quantum field theory

Experience

- Lecturer, Department of Physics, University of Central Florida 2004–present
- Visiting Instructor, Department of Physics, University of Central Florida 2002–2003
- Visiting Assistant Professor, Department of Physics, University of Vermont 1999–2002
- Visiting Assistant Professor, Department of Physics, University of the Virgin Islands 1998–1999
- Adjunct Instructor, Department of Physics, Montana State University 1997–1998

Recent Publications and Presentations

- Thomas Brueckner, “Are Students Learning to Think?” 2013 UCF Summer Faculty Development Conference, Communication for Academic, Professional and Civic Engagement May 8, 2013
- Thomas Brueckner and “Tips and Tricks: Getting the Most Out of Webcourses@UCF” 2011 UCF Summer Faculty Development Conference, Ethics, Access and Excellence: The Faculty Challenge May 4, 2011
- Thomas J. Brueckner and Karla M. Kitalong, “Sentences about Science: Implementing and Assessing a Writing Model for Distance Learners in Undergraduate Physics” Caribbean Journal of Education. (July (3rd Quarter/Summer) 2008). July 2008
- Thomas Brueckner, “Classroom Performance System for New Faculty” UCF Faculty Focus, 6, 9 (2007) August 2007