ICCAE Summer Seminar Application

Each year, the Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI)—the agency that funds the Central Florida Intelligence Community Center of Academic Excellence (CF-ICCAE)—conducts a two-week, fully funded summer seminar for students focused on careers in the Intelligence Community. During the seminar, students will meet with Intelligence Community employees and leaders, participate in simulations and other intelligence-oriented activities, and receive advice on applying for intelligence community positions. The CF-ICCAE has an opportunity to nominate students to participate in the program.

This is a one week, virtual conference. If chosen, the student will attend one of two sessions:

Session 1 is July 25th - July 30th, 2021

Session 2 is August 1st - August 6th, 2021

Graduate and undergraduate students of all majors- including recently graduated seniors of the class of Spring 2021- are encouraged to apply, but the student's course work should have some relationship with a potential career in intelligence or national security. ICCAE Scholars will be given preference. For a list of degrees and skills that are in critical need for the intelligence community please visit:
http://www.intelligencecareers.gov/.

The deadline for applying is Friday May 21st, 2021.
