

EDUCATION

M.S. in Industrial-Organizational Psychology
University of Central Florida

August 2013 - Present

B.A. in Psychology, Management (Minor)
The University of Memphis
Magna cum Laude, University Honors, GPA: 3.6

August 2008 – December 2012

RELEVANT COURSEWORK

Employee Staffing and Development • Organizational Behavior • Management of Human Resources
Ethical, Legal, and Professional Issues in I/O Psychology • Work Motivation and Job Attitudes

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

“Linguistic Patterns in Predicting Interpersonal Actions”

Psychology Department, The University of Memphis, 2011

- Collaborated with a faculty mentor to conduct primary research on how language shapes action behaviors and whether a predictive relationship can be assumed
- Selected to present research at The University of Memphis Works in Progress Symposium (2011)

“The Effects of Type and Quantity of Corporate Social Performance Information on Recruitment Outcomes” (Earnest and Sanders)

Psychology Department, The University of Memphis, 2012

Research Assistant

- Assisted with research conducted by a doctoral student (Sanders) of the Industrial-Organizational Psychology program
- Evaluated literature and managed subject pool statistics in order to determine the effectiveness of various types and amounts of information used in job advertisements

EMPLOYMENT HISTORY

Admissions Support Representative
Remington College – Heathrow, FL

September 2013 – Present

Tutor
Memphis Literacy Corporation - Memphis, TN

February 2009 – April 2011

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

Intern (Administrative Assistant)
Memphis Area Women's Council - Memphis, TN

May 2012 – January 2013

PROFESSIONAL MEMBERSHIPS

Society for Industrial and Organizational Psychology (SIOP) • Society for Human Resource Management (SHRM)