

ETHICALLY SPEAKING

AN INTERDISCIPLINARY SPEAKER SERIES ON CONTEMPORARY MORAL ISSUES

Gene editing. Artificial intelligence. A changing climate. Intersections of technology, values and communities in our rapidly changing world raise important ethical questions. Join us for a series of lectures by nationally renowned researchers, thinkers and leaders who will explore contemporary issues, ethically speaking.

Fall 2024 Schedule

RESURRECTING DANGEROUS MINDS: THE ETHICS OF USING AI TO PRESERVE MILITARY STRATEGISTS

10 September 2024, 3:30 pm Eastern

Dr. Blake Hereth

Assistant Professor of Medical Ethics, Humanities, & Law
Homer Stryker M.D. School of Medicine
Western Michigan University

Virtual seminar: Register using QR code or click here.

"SOMEONE ELSE GOT THE JOB": AI FOR HIRING AND ITS BIASES

8 October 2024 6:00 pm Eastern

Dr. Marc Cheong

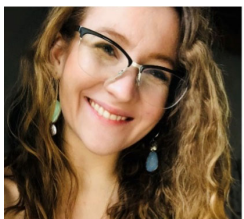

Associate Director – Centre for AI and Digital Ethics
Senior Lecturer – School of Computing & Information Systems
The University of Melbourne

Virtual seminar: Register using QR code or click here.

COGNITIVE TRANSFORMATION, DEMENTIA, AND ADVANCE DIRECTIVES: WHAT CLINICAL PRACTICE TEACHES US ABOUT THE MORAL WEIGHT OF ADVANCE DIRECTIVES

12 November 2024 3:00 pm Eastern

Dr. Em Walsh

Assistant Professor of Philosophy
University of Central Florida

Virtual seminar: Register using QR code or click here.

Sponsors of Ethically Speaking

- UCF Colleges of Graduate Studies; Science; Optics; Community Innovation & Education; and Arts & Humanities
- UCF Departments of Chemistry; Physics; Philosophy; Psychology; Biology; Electrical & Computer Engineering; and Materials Science and Engineering
- Office of Compliance, Ethics, and Risk, UCF

