College of Sciences Proposal Red Team Review Request

COS will arrange for a Red Team review of your draft proposal for external funding given sufficient lead team and pending available resources to support the Red Team Review. Priority will be given to requests from new investigators, proposals to new funding agencies, and major proposals, but all PIs are encouraged to request a Red Team Review of their proposals. A substantially complete technical proposal document must be provided to the Red Team at least two full weeks prior to the 10-day COS pre-award submission deadline. The Red Team will complete its review within one week of receiving the proposal draft and provide written feedback one week prior to the 10-day deadline with a virtual debrief between the Red Team and the PI and any Co-I's scheduled as early as possible after the review period. Earlier submission of a proposal to the Red Team is encouraged to allow for a more thorough review.

To request a Red Team Review, please complete and submit this form to the COS ADR (josh@ucf.edu). If your proposal draft is available, or a prior proposal will be submitted for review, please include that document with this form. The COS ADR will review the request and notify you as quickly as possible if a Red Team Review can be conducted.
